Legal & Ethical Statement

Leadem Counseling & Consulting Services, P.C. (LCCS) is committed to helping individuals grow in their knowledge of how to help others intervene upon a relapse process. At LCCS, we believe this is a skill set that licensed and non-licensed helping professionals alike could benefit from and implement. However, it is imperative that by reading and signing this document you acknowledge that LCCS is not certifying you to treat addiction or mental illness, to counsel, or coach anyone through the management of life or health challenges. Additionally, the mentorship that one must undergo to become certified as a Relapse Prevention Navigator™ is not clinical supervision and should not be used to replace clinical supervision if you need it. Furthermore, you acknowledge that An Ounce of Prevention: A Course in Relapse Prevention<sup>1</sup>, is a course book for self-guided or aided study and not a treatment plan.

If you are a licensed professional you agree to abide by all of the laws, ethical regulations and standards of your governing body. As a Relapse Prevention Navigator™, you agree to implement the skills taught in the trainings and mentorship experience within the scope your practice/profession as dictated by your licensure, training/or certification and the laws of your state.

LCCS reserves the right to terminate, suspend, deny or revoke one's certification or progress in becoming a certified Relapse Prevention Navigator™ if staff from LCCS becomes aware that a candidate or certified Relapse Prevention Navigator™ has failed to abide by any of the laws, ethical regulations or standards of his or her governing body(ies). Additionally, there will be no refund of fees paid if candidate's certification is deemed inactive for cause.

If such action is taken by LCCS, LCCS will remove a Relapse Prevention Navigator or candidate from its website if he or she paid for this marketing service. Additionally, there will be no refund of fees paid if candidate's certification is deemed inactive for cause.

Any candidate or Relapse Prevention Navigator that has had his or her certification or training terminated, suspended, denied or revoked shall immediately cease referring to himself or herself as a

Mentorship Agreement

Mentoring is intended to provide continuing education to aid graduates the RPN Training™ or the through the challenges of teaching our model to others and enhancing the depth and personalization of relapse prevention plans the end user will be able to develop.

Leadem Counseling & Consulting Services, P.C. (LCCS) offers certification to become a Certified Relapse Prevention Navigator™ (CRPN™). At the completion of the RPN Training™, a candidate must complete 20 hours of post-training mentorship with a CRPN™ Trainer in order to receive their certification.

Mentorship is offered in various modalities (individual mentorship, small and large group mentorship and webinars), but candidates need to adhere to the recommendations a CRPN™ Trainer makes regarding which modalities the candidate may use to complete the requisite hours. Additionally, candidates will have the opportunity to attend live webinars to satisfy some of the mentorship hours. The number of indirect mentorship hours a candidate can apply to the certification requirement will be at the discretion of the CRPN Trainer.

Candidates for CRPN™ have up to 1 year from the date he or she attends the training to complete the required post-training mentorship hours to be awarded certification. If the required mentorship hours are not completed within the expected timeframe the candidate shall remove all reference to the same from his or her website, social media platforms and marketing materials. Appeals can be made in writing to the LCCS corporate offices and an assessment will be made by the president as to whether or not additional training or mentorship is needed in order to be reinstated or to complete the certification process.

In order for CRPN™ candidates to satisfy his or her mentorship requirement he or she will be required to present case samples for mentor and peer review. Additionally, CRPN™ candidates will be required to present lecture material in a mock workshop environment during at least one group mentorship session which will include peer and mentor review.

Those seeking to utilize individual mentorship must be prepared to pay at the time of that mentorship appointment. Those seeking to utilize small or large group mentorship or participate in a webinar must register and pay for these modalities ahead of time so that the CRPN™ Trainer facilitating the group or webinar knows that there will be at least the minimum number of participants registered.

I understand that a more comprehensive agreement such as fees and specific performance objectives and standards will be forthcoming before I am formally accepted as a candidate.
